

1. A NEW BABY IN MY FAMILY

Mom and Dad might decide to have another baby. I will have to learn how to be a big brother or sister.

Some of my friends have younger brothers and sisters. It might be work because I may have to help Mom and Dad with the baby.

It might also be fun. I may help the baby learn things I already know.

I may have to help feed the baby. I may even rock the baby to sleep.

When the baby gets older I can help teach the baby how to talk.

I might be a good friend with my new brother or sister. We may have fun together.

Mom and Dad might have to pay a lot of attention to the new baby. This is because a baby needs a lot of care.

For instance, if you don't change a baby's diapers, the baby feels very uncomfortable and the baby smells very bad.

Mom and dad will love the new baby. Mom and dad love me, too.

I can learn to be a helper with the new baby. I can tell the new baby "I love you."
